

London Food Coalition

Rescue, Recover, Redistribute
www.LondonFoodCoalition.com

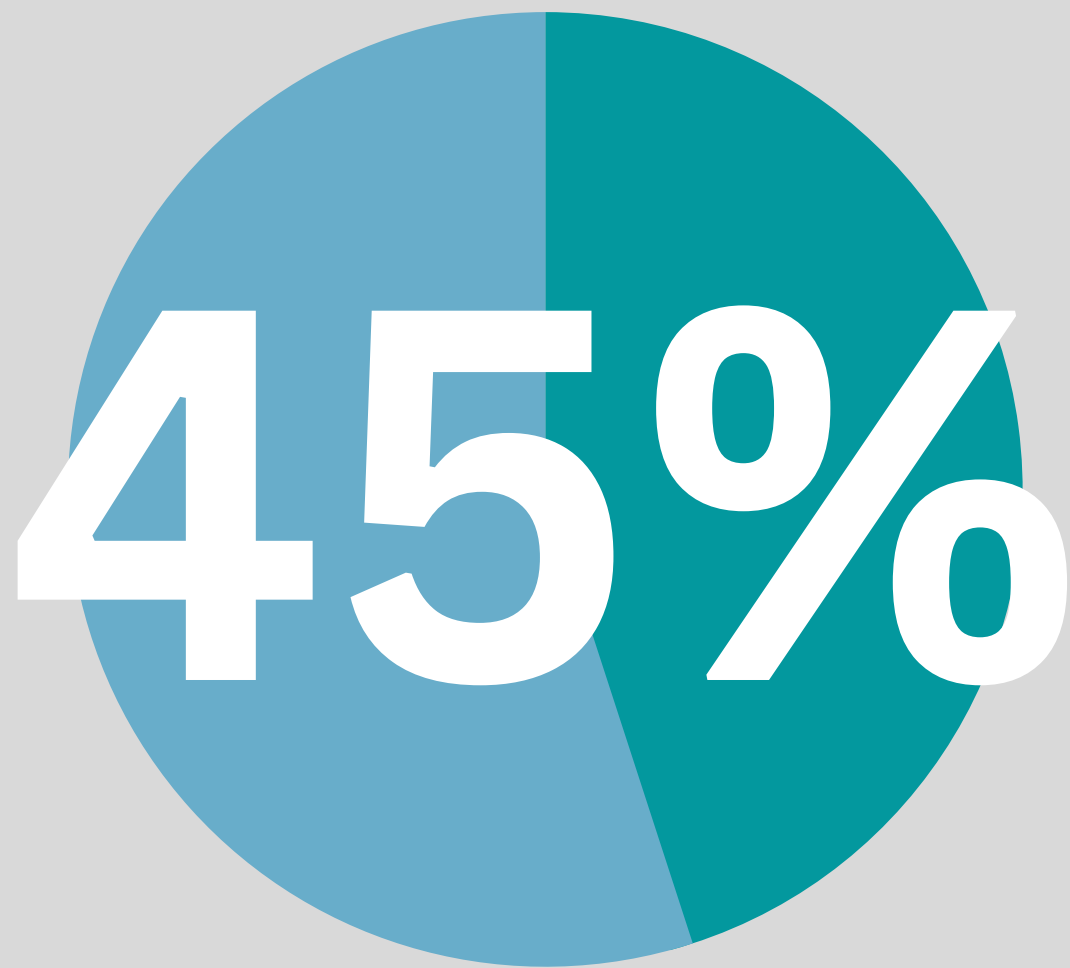

Food Waste Stats In London

The average London home emits 10.4 tonnes of CO₂e per year, and 6% of these emissions are from methane emissions from organic food waste.

On average, $600 worth of food is thrown away per London household per year. This amounts to approximately $108 million per year of waste across all London households.

According to a 2018 City of London report, food makes up 45% of the waste in London's landfills.

What is London Food Coalition?

London Food Coalition (LFC) aims to reduce food waste in London by redistributing excess food from grocery stores, farmers and restaurants to London community programs.

